“The sculptural pieces I create are made from wood scavenged from local building sites. Chopped, painted and screen printed the separate sections are then joined together to create relief-style wall mounted works. This three-dimensional format pushes color into a realm where its materiality exemplifies an otherwise undisclosed taciturn expression. The geometric patterns are products of my need to keep things exact. In my work I like a tight, controlled edge. I am a big fan of systems, meaning smaller pieces or ideas that work harmoniously toward a common end or goal, and geometric shapes adhere well to this construct.”

The artist Lauren Cotton comes from the small town of New Gretna located in South Jersey, exit 52 off of the Garden State Parkway and currently resides in Wilton, Connecticut where, “I live with my amazing husband Dylan and our three rambunctious boys, Caleb, Jacob, and Harper.” -L.C.
